AVIS Has Received Land

A remarkable addition of 37 acres of picturesque flood land and woodland, to the Deer Jump Reservation in West Andover, is announced by the Andover Village Improvement Society.

Acquired from Arthur and Natalie Stansfield, the additional acreage greatly widens the section of AVIS land near the mouth of Fish Brook and extends inland the land along the Merrimack River already owned by the organization. The society has now come into possession of one of the most fascinating beauty spots in Andover.

In the years to come, the reservation will become an invaluable and increasingly useful asset to Andover, providing outdoor recreational resources for walking through majestic, picturesque woods along the Merrimack River, only a few

Duff Hopes Job Will Be Done

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff is hopeful that the Rogers Brook project will be continued.

Noting that normal business activities in the state Waterways Division seem to have come to a halt, during recent investigations of the department head, Duff indicated that there should be no real reason why the Rogers Brook project should not be finally approved and undertaken.

"It would be an awful waste of state money", he stressed, "if it should be abandoned now. The state has spent quite a lot of money hiring engineers and drawing the plans", he continued, "and this should not be allowed to go to waste".

He also explained that the town, by investment of manpower and some money, also has a stake in the future of the project, in addition to wanting to see the reconstruction job completed.

The Boston and Maine Railroad, which is also a party to the agreement, currently has copies of the

Plan Tribute To Woodie Crowley

A mammoth tribute to Fire Lieutenant J. Woodrow Crowley will be held at the Andover Country Club the evening of Oct. 6, under the sponsorship of a large committee of his friends and associates.

Lt. Crowley is hospitalized at the Veterans Hospital in Jamaica Plain.

For many years, Lt. Crowley has given uncounted hours of his time to charity, particularly in the effort of the National Foundation in fighting polio. He also has been a champion of Camp Sea Haven, the camp at Plum Island where polio-ridden youngsters spent many happy hours and days.

The dance Oct. 6 will be supported by many of Mr. Crowley's associates through Essex County, as well as here in Andover.

Committee chairman Henry L. Hilton also has pointed out that "Woodie Crowley" accounts have been opened at all three local banks - Merrimack Valley National, Bay

July Building Permits Valued At $1,892,961

Activities Planned At Playgrounds

A busy year-end round of activities has been scheduled at the playgrounds, according to supervisor George Snyder.

The annual field day, when youngsters of all the grounds gather to compete in regular and special races, has been set for Aug. 15. A 10:15 starting time has been announced, at the Central playground. The various playgrounds will be handicapped according to their enrollments.

An inter-playground swim meet will be held Aug. 10 at Pomp's Pond, starting at 2 p.m.

And on the first three days of next week, inter-playground championships will be decided in the many games that have been enjoyed during the season.

Currently, a display of arts and crafts work accomplished on the grounds is on display in various store windows on Main st. Miss Madeline Simeone is in charge of this activity.

Last week, the grounds held their own special activities. Results included:

Nine new homes, and two major building projects at Phillips Academy, helped swell the value of permits issued during July to $1,892,961.

Building Inspector Ernest N. Hall reported his month's work to Town Manager Thomas E. Duff. He indicated that additions and alterations were also allowed, with an estimated value of $293,363.

Given permits for houses, with garages, were: Sherwood Homes Inc., 35 Linwood st., $11,000; Charles A. Lavoie, 115 Salem st., $12,000; John Gocowski, 3 Cyr cir., $32,000; Rabenius Builders Inc., 31 Lincoln cir., $18,000 and a second, at 30 Lincoln cir., at $20,000; Cinderella Homes Inc., 20 Suncrest rd., $14,460; George W. Davis, 151 Osgood st., $19,000; Henry Audesse, 27 Birch rd., $18,000.

Other permits for new construction went to Beasley and Mitton, 252 Andover st., house, $17,000; Joseph Gallant, 38R Old County rd., tool shed, $100; Phillips Academy, arts building, $737,350 and science building, $1,002,801; and Carleton Shulze, 2 Sheridan rd., tool shed, $250.

Town Survey Results In

The results of the League of Women Voters town-wide survey proved one thing beyond a doubt - Andover residents don't like present real estate taxes.

Other, occasionally contradictory and sometimes sharply divergent opinions include:

A majority likes the "open character" of the community and favors preserving it by large-lot zoning.

Over 90 percent of the town believes the community doesn't have enough industry, and believes that additional industry would reduce taxes and open up more employment opportunities in the town.

Despite this, only 43 percent of the residents believe industrial growth is most important in the development of the town and a sizeable 34 percent feel that the town

Investigating Cause Of Double Fatality

A team of experts from Harvard University is continuing its investigation of last Saturday's fatal auto crash on Route 93, at the River rd. interchange.

Mrs. Virginia M. Rooney, 32, and her daughter, Colleen F. Rooney, 13, 21 Arnold st., Methuen, died when Mrs. Rooney's car smashed into an abutment of the bridge. The front end of the car was almost completely wrapped around the big post.

Although the Harvard investigators have had little to report so far, they have indicated that a vehicle need only be moving at 30 miles an hour to cause this amount of damage. Tests they have performed show that striking a solid object, such as the abutment, can result in such serious damage, as

REVIEWING CD ORGANIZATION

A review and report of Civil Defense preparedness here will be submitted to Town Manager Thomas E. Duff when he returns from vacation.

In a memo to Civil Defense Director Lee Noyes, Mr. Duff asked that the entire organization be reviewed, with recommendations for improvements where needed. He anticipates that the state CD effort may be stepped up later in the summer or this fall, with subsequent effect on the local endeavor.

Mrs. Robert Hamilton is one of many hundreds of local home makers who like to shop at the Andover CO-OP. This is what Mrs. Hamilton says:

"I like to SHOP CO-OP because: The CO-OP is handy to everything. When I go marketing, I am also apt to stop at the post office, bank, the drug or hardware store. I like the fact that the CO-OP is so convenient to so many other places where I have errands to do. I like the courteous and friendly service I always receive."

The above is one customer's reason for marketing at our store. There are other reasons which appeal to other people.

What are YOU looking for at your source of supply for groceries? The chances are that we have it in abundance.

to heal him

You can find your way back to health if you will prayerfully follow the instructions contained in Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy. In this great book you will find a full explanation of the method of Christian Science healing.

Christian Science holds unwaveringly to the truth in the first chapter of Genesis that "God saw every thing that He had made, and, behold, it was very good." Thus Christian Science restores the invalid to health.

Science and Health may be read or examined, together with the Bible, at any Christian Science Reading Room. Or it may be purchased at $3.

minutes driving distance from the center of town.

Though the two trails through the reservation - one along the river and the other on a higher land route - are not clear in all parts, plans are under way to cut trails in the fall so that anyone may take the entire walk, from one end to the other and return, a distance of about five miles. Those who wish to volunteer for this activity should get in touch with Miss Rebekah Taft, 232 Salem st. chairman of the Activities Committee.

The reservation still needs to increase its width at some narrow points. If anyone owning property which adjoins the reservation would care to donate a part of his land to the AVIS, such a donation would be gratefully received. According to Lester C. Newton, "If he feels unable to donate the land, Mr. Newton explained, "the AVIS would be interested in considering its purchase. In either case, please get in touch with Harold Rafton, 9 Alden rd., who is Chairman of the AVIS Land Committee", he concluded.

Shower Held For Jeannie Griffith

Mrs. Clayton Northey of Rocky Hill rd. was hostess at a miscellaneous shower at her home, honoring Miss Jeannie M. Griffith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Griffith of Dracut, who will become the bride of Glenn A. Peatman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Peatman of Cutler rd.

The bride-elect received many gifts from relatives and friends. Luncheon was served by the hostess.

The wedding will take place Sept. 2 at St. Anne's Episcopal Church, Lowell.

Both are employed at Raytheon Co.

Duff said he has been in communication with the state regarding the plans, and that someone now has been assigned to go through the pending projects at the Division in an attempt to restore normal progress.

TOWN SURVEY

RESULTS ANNOUNCED

should remain the same in character as it is.

Surprisingly, 53 percent of the residents would not object if a clean industrial establishment should be built within a quarter-mile of their homes; but a healthy 41 percent would oppose this.

Most favored the type of industrial park that appears along Route 128, or large plants like Western Electric or Avco.

Despite listing the taxes as the first choice on a list of things disliked about the town, it appears that the town believes there are insufficient municipal services - with an expression of a desire for garbage and refuse collection. It also appears that many townspeople want additional recreational facilities, specially skating rinks and swimming pools.

It is noteworthy that most of those wanting the latter services feel they should be paid for through a mixture of private and public funds.

Nearly unanimous agreement appears on a list of items liked about the town - the schools.

Under this general heading, a majority favors continuation of the summer school, paid for in part by the town; they want a longer school day, but not a longer school year. Interest was expressed in adult courses in languages art and wood-working.

A sharp division of opinion - as generally expected - appears when residents are asked their opinion of the town.

Over 44 percent believe Andover is unique and self-sufficient; but 38 percent think it is an integral part of the Merrimack Valley community. Lesser numbers believe that it is part of the Greater Lawrence community, or the Greater Boston community.

Shopping facilities were generally criticized in the survey, with groceries, hardware and garden tools being the only items purchased here by nearly 100 percent of the residents.

The survey indicated that only 15 percent of the residents buy half of their clothing here; and only 15 percent buy 100 percent of their books and phonograph records.

Listed most frequently as reasons for shopping elsewhere were lower prices and wider selections. Convenience also played a part, with car servicing a prime example. About 31 percent have their cars serviced in town - the rest have the work done elsewhere because it is near their place of employment, or because of price conditions.

The report, processed by IBM from questionnaires returned by 801 of the 1509 families receiving them, also indicated that the town is about evenly divided for and against new shopping facilities. Those favoring expansion of the facilities indicate a desire for department stores and a large regional shopping center.

According to statistical experts, the results of the survey can be assumed to be fairly accurate in forecasting what the town as a whole thinks. The homes to which questionnaires were sent were picked from the 1960 street list, on the basis of sending a form to every third home.

The breakdown of those returning the document shows that a fairly wide cross-section was reached, based on the number of years the family has been in the community.

Of the 810 returns, 68 families have lived here less than one year; and in the period from one to five years, 196 families replied. In the 6-10 year period, 163 families answered the questions; 93 families, living here between 11 and 15 years, replied; 79 families have been here 16 to 20 years. The questionnaire also elicited response from many families who have lived here longer than 20 years.

Looking over the questionnaire in more detail, we find that a majority believe Andover is a residential-suburban community, while another large group thinks it is this, with both an industrial and business flavor.

Answering a question about what is considered most important in the development of Andover, a majority feels that additional industry is the answer, while a large segment wants the town to remain generally the same in character.

In a list of three factors liked about the town, public schools were listed by 235 families as their first choice, and also received 70 second and 40 third choices. The rural character of the town was listed as first choice by 83 and the people of the town were listed as the first choice by 73 families.

Significantly, the item "progress of the town" was checked as first choice by 14 families, and received only 11 second choice votes. Some 62 indicated that this was the third most important factor to them. Town appearance received 57 first choice votes, 97 seconds and was listed by 119 families as their third choice.

Taxes were listed by 177 families as the item most disliked about the town, and this item received 41 second and 52 third places. Lack of town services was checked by 87 as the first thing they dislike about the town, while 103 listed this in second place and 77 in third.

Rapid growth was listed by 78 as their top dislike, and 77 gave this as their second choice, while 51 listed it third.

Lack of town progress was listed by 42, and this reason was listed as second choice by 37 families and as third choice by 74.

Town-supported garbage and trash pickup was supported on a count of 479 yes, 288 no.

Industrial property is believed to support itself best, the total indicate, but a substantial group believes that residential property best supports itself.

In order of the preference listed by the families, the following recreational facilities would be used, if provided: skating rinks 244, swimming pools 239, tennis courts 194, parks, picnic and hiking areas 165, teenage recreation facilities 154, and 197 answered "none."

"Do you feel Andover has enough industry?" The answer to that was 736 no's and one yes.

The Greater Lawrence vocational school apparently doesn't meet with favor - 402 questionnaires were answered "no" on participation while 328 favor it.

Lawrence Thomas Honored Recently

Lawrence Thomas of Bailey rd. was honored at a testimonial banquet July 24, when over 225 of his fellow employees at the New England Power Co. gathered to wish him well in retirement.

Mr. Thomas worked for the Company for 32 years.

Two of his brothers were in attendance at the affair, at the King's Grant Motel in Danvers. They are Philip Thomas, also employed by the New England Power Co., and Albert Thomas of Charlotte, N. C.

His many friends wished him well, as he plans to devote his time to his large farm on Bailey rd.

Meteor Shower May Be Observed

The Charles Hayden Planetarium at Boston's Museum of Science says that now's the time to start scanning the nighttime skies for signs of those sudden streaks of yellow light we call shooting stars.

These flashes of light which will be well in evidence all during the first half of August are not really stars at all but small pieces of cosmic debris properly called meteors.

To get the best view of them, the Planetarium says, mark the night of Aug. 11-12 (Friday night and Saturday morning) on your calendar. That's when the annual Perseids meteor shower will be at its best.

This particular shower is known as the Perseids because the meteors seem to come from the direction of the constellation Perseus, located in the northeastern section of the sky. (This is really an optical illusion; the meteors are all coming towards us in parallel lines. It is only because we are looking into distance that the lines seem to come from a point - as when we look down railroad tracks.)

Most of these particles are tinier than a grain of sand, but occasional ones are as heavy as a jet airliner. They travel through space at tremendous speeds. Attracted by gravity, they hurtle earthward through the atmosphere, where friction with the air heats them to such temperatures that they burn up, leaving bright trails across the sky. It is this path of light that is correctly called a meteor.

Billions of these rock, metal, or frozen gas particles bombard our planet every day, but almost all burn up completely before they ever reach the earth. Only rarely does one survive its fiery trip through the atmosphere and land on our globe. Those few that do are called meteorites.

The largest meteorite ever known to hit earth still lies where it fell, in South-West Africa. It measures 9'x9'x3' and weighs 60 tons. A smaller one, about two feet across and weighing 295 1/2 pounds, is on exhibit in the lobby of the Boston Museum's Charles Hayden Planetarium.

About a dozen or more times a year, our earth passes through particularly dense swarms of these cosmic particles, and then we see many more meteors than the usual nightly average. Astronomers call this a meteor shower, and the one coming up this month is the best of the year. On the night of Aug. 11-12, you can expect to see as many as 50 Perseids an hour.

If you want a really good look, wait until after midnight and pick a spot as far as possible from city light and smog. This year, Aug. 11 should be a particularly dark night, good for viewing, because the moon will be new and not seen at all. That means the meteor streaks will be even more pronounced. Last year, the light of many a meteor was blotted out by a bright moon.

If you do decide to stargaze in the wee hours, be sure to dress warmly. Even in mid-August, the nights can be pretty cold.

AVERY - COLMER
The West Parish Church was the setting for the marriage Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock of Miss Judith Ann Colmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Colmer, 17 Harvard rd., and John Avery Jr., son of John Avery, 36 Morton st.

The Rev. Howard A. Andrews performed the ceremony before a large assemblage of relatives and friends. Mrs. Hans W. Barber, organist, played incidental music as well as the traditional marches.

Baskets of white flowers and lighted candles decorated the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a princess gown of white silk organza styled with a portrait neckline of re-embroidered Alencon Lace and short sleeves. The full back skirt was accented with appliqued streamers and terminated in a chapel train.

A coronet of orange blossoms held her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion and she carried a cascade arrangement of stephanotis and white roses, centered with a

She was preceded to the altar by Mrs. Dorothea Crowley, as matron of honor, Miss Jeanette Brose and Miss Eleanor Lawson, as bridesmaids. The honor attendant wore a street length gown of baby blue silk organza with a scoop neckline and short sleeves. The full skirt was shirred in the back with scattered blue roses. She wore a coronet of orange blossoms with a blue face veil and carried a basket of blue and white daisies. The bridesmaids wore similar costumes in pale pink and carried baskets of pink and white daisies.

James H. Eaton 3rd served as best man for Mr. Avery and the usher's duties were performed by Philip J. Crowley of West Newbury and Carlton M. Strong Jr. of Lynnfield.

The couple received at a reception at the Colony room. Guests were present from New Hampshire, Florida, New York, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Maine and Rhode Island.

After an extended trip through Canada, the couple will reside at 36 Morton st.

The bride is a graduate of Pynchard High School and the Lawrence General Hospital School of Nursing.

Mr. Avery prepared at Phillips Academy for Brown University, from which he received his Bachelor of Science Degree in engineering.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Look and their family of Kirkland dr. are enjoying a stay at Cllocorua, N. H.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Bike Riding Program?

There is need for a great deal of education to familiarize children who ride bicycles with the provisions of the new law which the legislature passed this year regulating the operation of bicycles on public ways.

Most of the provisions of the new law affect the cyclists. The regulations require the cyclist to proceed on the right of way, in single file, and that no more than one person be on a bicycle at one time.

There must be a rear reflector for night riding, and bicyclists must not hook rides on other vehicles. Violators may be punished by loss of registration and by the impounding of cycles for 15-day periods.

The law in itself is fine. But most of the youngsters who ride bicycles are too young to be acquainted with the acts and resolves of the Massachusetts legislature.

It is up to parents and teachers who have daily contact with the children to instruct them in their obligations.

Driver education programs are given in the schools for those old enough to drive automobiles. It might be a good idea to set up a bicycle education program for the small fry.

Dump Problems

Andover's disposal site problems are similar to those in many other communities. Everyone wants the convenience of such a facility, but no one wants it in their neighborhood.

It has been suggested to the selectmen that the five member committee authorized to study the problem in the town be augmented by a sixth member to be elected from residents of the Chandler road area where the present dump is located. The theory is that such a person could provide first hand knowledge of the irritations arising from the operation of a disposal site.

The most common complaint is that of smoke and the offensive odors given off by burning waste material. These are eliminated in some communities by the establishment of an incinerator. When the refuse is burned under extreme heat, the smoke is carried high into the air through a lofty chimney and for the most part eliminates any nuisance.

Another, and less extensive plan, is the so-called sanitary fill system. This involves the bulldozing of a deep trench into which the collected waste is dumped. As the trench is filled, earth is pushed over the top and the matter is buried.

The sanitary fill system is fine if it is properly supervised. Sufficient personnel and mechanical equipment must be provided to see that the job can be done each day.

A lot of attention is being given of late to the feasibility of several communities joining in the establishment of a central incinerator large enough to accommodate the needs of all. One of the handicaps to this method is the matter of long haulage from the more remote areas.

There are many factors which contribute to the community dump problem.

The increasing population and the expansion of dwelling areas into what was formerly rural land is the largest one. When the town dump was miles away from anyone's home, there was little complaint.

In this area, the changing industrial complex has created more headaches. The by-products of some industrial processes are highly inflammable and when burned give off heavy, black smoke. Other material does not burn at all and some place to dispose of it must be found.

The entire problem is one that does not admit of easy solution. The committee set up in Andover to study the matter will have to take a long range view since the situation will be with us for many years to come.

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago - August, 1911

Fred Cheever of the Tyer Rubber Co. office is spending a vacation in Maine.

Harry P. Wright, local plumber, has purchased an automobile truck for use in his business.

J. E. Pittman is remodeling the house on Locke st. owned by Mrs. John N. Cole and long used as a Phillips Academy society house.

A large Buick of the racing type struck a buggy on Main st., resulting in a pair of broken shafts and a damaged radiator.

Supt. of Schools S. C. Hutchinson and Mrs. Hutchinson left for their new home in Montpelier, Vt., where Mr. Hutchinson is to take up his new position. The Hutchinson home here is to be occupied by the new superintendent of schools, Mr.

Bemis.

25 Years Ago - August, 1936

Rabies caused the death of a cow. The Board of Health is much concerned with the number of rabies cases reported this year.

Isaac Cuthill of High st. is visiting his brother James in Minneapolis, Minn., whom he has not seen in 40 years. The brothers parted after being the bridegrooms at a double wedding ceremony.

A minor operating a car in violation of the law sent the vehicle out of control at the corner of Main and Chestnut sts. and caused considerable damage.

Shawsheen Village playground located at the old soccer field, which is the property of the American Woolen Co., must be vacated by Sept. 1. Plans are underway to establish it at the rear of the Shawsheen School.

Dr. Alston Hurd Chase, Latin instructor at Phillips Academy, was removed from war-torn Spain by a British warship and landed in Marseilles, France.

10 Years Ago - August, 1951

A new Board of Trade is being organized by the merchants through the assistance of the Andover Service Club.

An unopened letter 36 years old, containing a check for $250 was found as the Shaw property on Main st. was razed. The letter was sent from Lawrence and was for a church contribution.

A group of Explorer Scouts left by plane for West Point, N. Y., where they were to be guests of the military.

Officer James R. Lynch of the Andover police found the body of a murdered man off Gray st. in North Andover while taking a walk.

Emile Wlodyka of Methuen has been named assistant engineer at the Haggitt's pond pumping station.

At The Library

Coming Events:

AUGUST

5 Library closed.

9 Story hour for young people, 10:15 a.m.

Summer Hours

The library is open Monday through Friday, from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. The Children's room is open on those days from 10 a.m. to 12 noon, and from 2-5 p.m. On Saturdays, Sundays and holidays the library is closed.

Ballardvale branch library is open as usual, Mondays and Thursdays from 2-5 and 6-8 p.m.

Phantoms and Fairies

This is the theme of the Wednesday morning story hour to be held in the Children's room on this coming Wednesday, August 9, at 10:15 o'clock. All young people who enjoy unusual stories will wish to attend. Among the tales to be told are "Bee Man of Orme", "Little Prince Ivan", "The Old Witch", "Georgie" and "Listening."

Story hours will continue through the month of August. They are held every Wednesday morning, and begin promptly at 10:15. Listeners are urged to be on time to enjoy the full program.

Framed Prints

From time to time, the library takes this opportunity to introduce new readers to a non-book service open to families who are card holders in the Memorial Hall Library.

This is the loaning of framed prints, one at a time, for a period of two months, for a very small covering fee.

The original selection of pictures in the lending collection was made possible through a gift of the Andover Evening Study Group. From the small beginnings, the collection has grown until there are now over 50 beautifully framed, ready for hanging.

There are a few simple regulations which may interest the would-be borrower: first, no one family may borrow more than one picture at a time or borrow an additional picture while one is in their possession. A slight change has been made in this which allows two of the small Winslow Homer pictures to be taken for the fee of one, as they are more attractive in pairs. Prints may be borrowed for two months and may not be renewed. However, the same one may be borrowed again at a later time. A charge will be made for all prints kept out overtime, and unusual damage beyond ordinary wear and tear will be charged for, although over a number of years this has been practically nothing.

Several borrowers have become so pleased with prints that the library has helped in finding the source of copies and giving the probable price, etc. There is a list of all holdings available at the library.

As an example of the painters whose work is included, here is a selected list: Bellows, Botticelli, Bracque, Breughel, Buffet, Cezanne, Constable, Corot, De Hooch, Dufy, Gauguin, Harnett, Homer, Marc, Monet, Picasso, Renoir, Rouault, Sargent, Utrillo, Van Gogh, Velasquez, Vermeer, Waugh, etc.

Children Continue To Enjoy Camp

For the third week, girls from nine communities were registered campers at Camp Harold Parker, the day camp operated by the Council for Greater Boston Camp Fire Girls.

Jointly sponsored by the North Reading, Bear Hill and Merrimack Valley Districts, Camp Harold Parker is located in the Harold Parker State Forest and is directed by Mrs. Ruth Reitinger, district director from the Greater Boston Council.

Among the special activities of the week was a crazy hat contest held during the rainy day program at the Grange Hall in North Reading. Winners from the various units included Unit 1, funniest, William Westphal, and prettiest, Joseph Risi; Unit 2, funniest, Steven Dentali, and prettiest, Dana Phillips; Unit 3, funniest, Susan Swin, and prettiest, Diane Risi; Unit 4, funniest, Roanne Fitzgerald and prettiest, Nannette Beaucher; Unit 5, funniest, Paula Moosman, and prettiest, Lois Arinelli; Unit 6, funniest, Denise Dentali, and prettiest, Amy Park; Unit 7, funniest, Cynthia Swin, and prettiest, Linda Kopatch; and Unit 8, the aides-in-training, funniest, Chris Dougherty, and prettiest, Debbie Edmonds.

A new innovation was the formation of the camp choir. Miss Nancy Campbell of Andover, junior counselor, and Ellen McKendry of North Reading, program aide, spent a busy week teaching the girls to sing many of the beautiful Camp Fire Girl songs in two-part harmony. The choir will make its appearance during the Grand Council Fire Aug. 3, the closing day of the four-week season.

Contribution for the annual issue of the "Water Lily Press" were received during the week. Miss Campbell, editor, has announced that the edition will be distributed to campers on the last day of camp.

The weekly fire drill was held Wednesday. It is quite a thing to observe an active camp area with almost 200 campers and staff members suddenly cease all activities and silently file, by unit, through one of the several previously planned routes to safety. The wisdom of the fire drills is obvious and an excellent example of the care and thought that has surrounded Camp Harold Parker since its beginning three years ago.

New volunteer counselors for the third week of Camp Harold Parker included Mrs. Joseph Risi of Reading, Mrs. Gerald Nelson of Andover, and Mrs. Arthur Barresi of North Reading. In addition, Susan Caliri of Lawrence and Priscilla Johnson of Reading joined the staff as program aides.

Duncan Bissett has returned to his home in Pico, Cal. after spending several weeks with his daughter Mrs. Edward O'Brien.

Dear friends,

Memorial wreaths, spiritual bouquets, and memorial donations to charities are most commendable means of expressing respect for the dead and comfort for the living.

Flowers too have their essential place in the funeral service for the beauty and warmth they bring to the service and the comfort they bring to the family.

Respectfully,

Marblehead Neck, and a royaltern was seen at Salisbury.

At Plum Island a snowy egret was seen with a Little Blue Heron, and another Little Blue was in Rowley. This is about the time when these Southern Herons move around. A Pied-billed Grebe with five young and Stilt Sandpipers were also on the island, and watchers were rewarded with sight of a Gannet and a Parasitic Jaeger off shore. Other species noted on the North Shore island included seven Whimbrels, two Wilson's Phalaropes, Wood Ducks and Pectoral Sandpipers.

Dowitcher flights have passed their peak and Knots are now coming in. Several of these birds along with a Black Tern and a Common Goldeneye were seen at Ipswich Bay.

Major Schiller Has Completed Course

Army Reserve Maj. Francis J. Schiller of Andover completed the associate command and general staff course at The Command and General Staff College, Fort Leavenworth, Kan., July 22.

Phased over a five-year period, the course parallels the resident course at the college. To complete the required 120 hours a year, students receive training at various installations, but must complete the final two weeks at The Command and General Staff College.

The college, the Army's senior tactical school, was established in 1881 as the School of Application of Infantry and Cavalry.

Major and Mrs. Schiller live at 15 Rennie dr. The major is assigned to the 1037th U. S. Army Reserve School in Lowell.

Schiller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Schiller, 1356 E. Fortieth st., Brooklyn, N. Y., is a 1930 graduate of Brooklyn Technical High School and a 1943 graduate of Pratt Institute, Brooklyn.

He is employed by the Western Electric Company, North Andover.

Curry Exhibits

At Boston Museum

Justin Curry, 96 Chestnut st., is represented in the just-opened Boston Museum of Fine Arts Traveling Scholars Exhibition.

The artists' work comes from literally all over the world. These former graduates of the School were able, by generous scholarships, to work and to travel abroad not only in Western and Central Europe but also in such places as Israel, Latin America, Asia Minor, India, Ceylon and Japan.

Mr. Curry, the only Andover artist in this exhibition, spent his year in Italy and Northern Europe. Fourteen of his paintings are included in the show which will be on view through Aug. 13 at the Boston Museum of Fine Arts.

CAPITOL COMMENT

By YOUR CONGRESSMAN
BRAD MORSE

Legislation of critical importance to many Massachusetts communities — and taxpayers — was one of the innocent casualties of the battle over Federal Aid to Education here in Congress.

Unless swift action is taken before Congress adjourns, several Bay State cities and towns will be faced with immediate real estate tax hikes ranging up to $7 per thousand.

Here's the story: In 1950, Congress, recognizing that hundreds of local school systems which had been required to absorb scores of new students — children of Federal Government civilian employees and military personnel at nearby U. S. installations — just could not afford to provide funds for the additional buildings and operating expenses caused by the influx of these new students.

Congress reasoned that, since the Federal government had thrust the additional burden on the local school districts, it was only fair for it to pay at least part of the increased bill. Two laws — popularly known as "Impacted Areas" legislation were enacted. One — Public Law 815 — provided Federal assistance for the construction of additional elementary and secondary facilities for school districts which had substantial increases in school population as a result of new or expanded Federal activities. The second — Public Law 874 — required Federal contributions for maintenance and operating expenses.

In brief, these laws cast the Federal Government in the role of a local taxpayer, required to bear its fair share of the local school costs attributable to Federal activities.

This all-important legislation expired June 30, 1961.

Although there has been little Congressional controversy over the justice of the impacted areas legislation, the Kennedy Administration decided, early this year, to oppose separate efforts to extend the program, favoring instead the inclusion of the extension in the controversial proposal for comprehensive Federal Aid to Elementary and Secondary Schools. It has been suggested that Administration strategists followed this course in order to attract support for the new comprehensive bill from members of Congress who had reservations about general Federal Aid to Education, but who represented districts which depended upon Federal payments under Public Laws 815 and 874.

The strategy backfired when the House Rules Committee recently voted to table the Administration's general bill.

Anticipating the impasse that has occurred, I filed, in February, H. R. 4454, designed solely to extend the impacted areas legislation for an additional two years. In recent days, I have conferred with House leaders, urging immediate action on my bill. Unless early approval is obtained, it will mean higher local tax rates and money out of your pocket.

Green Pastures Tours Planned

County winners of the Massachusetts Green Pastures program will participate in bus tours to some of New England's outstanding dairy farms on August 9 and 10. Dr. Martin E. Weeks, professor of agronomy at the University of Massachusetts and chairman of the tour committee of the New England Green Pastures Committee, announces that there will be two 2-day bus tours.

The western Massachusetts counties of Berkshire, Franklin, Hampshire, and Hampden will join with the northern and western counties of Connecticut in a tour leaving Hartford on the morning of August 9. This tour will visit five dairy farms in the southern Massachusetts and Connecticut area during the two days. Featured on this trip will be a visit to the Ray White Farm in Acushnet, Mass., New England's largest dairy farm consisting of 1,000 acres and 700 milking cows. The farm incorporates large scale equipment and includes a milk processing plant.

Eastern Massachusetts and Connecticut counties and Rhode Island will make up the second tour originating in Providence. First stop for this tour will be the John Eliades farm at Groton, Mass., a state winner in 1959 Green Pastures program. The next stop will be the University of New Hampshire where the dairymen will have a chance to view the herd and facilities. In the evening, Ken Morrow of the university, will speak to the group on "Breeding and Environment." On the final day the tour will visit the Shaw and Richard's farms in Sanford, Me.

Approximately 40 persons including county "selectees" of the Green Pastures program and their wives will compose each tour. The tours are sponsored by the New England Green Pastures Committee for the county winners of each state so that they may view other outstanding dairymen's practices.

Folklore

Carl Sandburg once said "Besides giving you the company of nice, darnfool yarn spinners, folklore will give you something of the feel of American history." This comes from the forward of Benjamin Botkin's "Treasury of American Folklore", a volume which gives a lively record of the days and deeds of such persons as Billy the Kid, Jesse James, Casey Jones, and from pioneers to the Little Audrey and the knock, knock stories. A second book of his is "A Treasury of Western Folklore".

Burl Ives, popular folk singer, has published a book about the things he has found in folklore, with the title "Tales of America." There is also Padraic Colum's "Treasury of Irish Folklore", Marie Campbell's "Tales from the Cloud-Walking Country," Horace Beck's "The Folklore of Maine", and Richard Dorson's "Jonathan Draws The Long Bow", more New England legends.

These and many more are available at the Memorial Hall Library. For those who prefer to hear folk tales and songs there are several recordings available in the audio-visual collection. These include folk music of England, Ireland, Scotland, Greece, France, French-Canada, Russia, American, etc. All are intended for home use.

Fire Loss Was Small During July

Fire losses were small during July, according to a report from Chief Henry L. Hilton to Town Manager Thomas E. Duff.

Hilton said the department answered 11 fire calls during the month - five residential, two autos, one public utility, one brush, one smoke investigation and one mercantile.

Nine investigations were completed on complaints and non-permit burning.

The ambulance answered 76 calls for assistance.

TWO DIED — Mrs. Virginia M. Rooney, 32, and her daughter, Colleen F. Rooney, 21 Arnold st., Methuen, died when the car Mrs. Rooney was driving almost completely wrapped around this big abutment on Route 93, at the River rd. interchange. The car was heading south when it swerved well off the highway, veered around a directional sign, then hit the abutment. (Cole)

Swimmers Displayed Results Of Lessons

A water demonstration at Pump's Pond last Sunday demonstrated the progression of swimming skills learned in the classes held there during the week.

Bonnie Rogerson, Patricia Esposito and Robert Esposito performed some of the things they have learned in the beginners classes — rhythmic breathing, prone float, prone glide and others. Donald D. Dunn and Joseph Dorsey instruct the beginners.

Bill Hershon and Bruce Moody, members of the intermediate class, demonstrated the breast stroke and side stroke. Instructor of this group is Donald Sorrie.

Members of the swimmers class, under the instruction of Fred Polgreen, performed the crawl stroke. Taking part were Candy Walters, Thomas O'Leary and Terry Tamirez.

A boat rescue was demonstrated by the junior lifesavers, directed by Albert Carlson. The fake drowning victim was Richard Piercy, and the rescuer was Michael Barry, assisted by Daniel Merrill. The entire rescue was completed in one minute.

A torpedo buoy rescue and ring buoy rescue were performed by Richard Morgan. Wilbur Hixon is instructor of the senior lifesaving class.

The registration in the beginners classes at the Pond has totalled 526 so far this year and 80 have already passed the test. There have been 105 taking the intermediate course; 20 swimmers; 32, junior lifesaving; six, senior lifesaving and 9 adults.

Will Install More Street Lighting

Additional street lighting will be installed on five local streets, with nine other streets being reviewed.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff said improvements are being made on Lovejoy rd., Chandler rd., River rd., Shipman rd. and Lockway rd. Under review are Woburn st., Brown st., Pinecrest rd., Barrington dr., Bailey rd., Wildwood rd., Railroad st., and Lupine rd.

Nothing ventured, nothing gained may be true, but at least you can keep what you have.

EXPERTS INVESTIGATE 2-CAR FATALITY

compared to the results if the car hit some other type of object.

The accident itself occurred as the car headed south on Route 93. The vehicle swerved off the highway, veered around and on the inside of a traffic sign, then struck the abutment.

Police have been mystified as to the cause, noting that there is a lack of brake marks, or any other indication of how the accident happened.

They have appealed to motorists, who may have seen the accident, to make themselves known. The crash happened at 3:30 p.m., when the highway normally would be relatively busy.

PLAN TRIBUTE TO WOODIE CROWLEY

State Merchants and Andover Savings — for contributions from those who would rather pay tribute to Mr. Crowley in that way.

David L. Nicoll is treasurer of the committee and Atty. Richard K. Gordon is its secretary.

Tickets for the dance will go on sale later this week, under the supervision of Deputy Fire Chief Albert Cole Jr. They will be distributed throughout the County.

The committee also has announced that the entire facilities of the Country Club, including the orchestra, have been donated for the occasion by Edward Donahue and employees of the Club.

Included on the committee planning the event are Arthur Hall, Henry Pepin, Kenneth Hilton Jr., Edward J. Donahue, George S. McCarthy, Raymond S. LaRosa,
